Tomorrow: Retailing Careers 'Live Wool' Shown At Clothing Exhibit

A symposium, "Careers In Retailing," conducted by the Bucks County Technical School's distributive education department, will highlight the "Clothing and Textiles For Today's Families" program at the Levittown Community Hall tomorrow.

The three-day event kicked off this morning with a symposium, "Clothing and Textiles for Today's families," featuring experts in the field of manufacturing wool, cotton, viscose and other man-made fibers.

Fritz Roberts, from the J. C. Penny Company, New York City, explained the fiber identification act, which went into effect this month.

A "live" wool exhibit of sheep, provided by Amos Satterthwaite, a wool grower near Yardley, delighted children and adults today. Fred Fowles, of Bristol, displayed fleece showing the various grades of wool.

The symposium tomorrow will give taxpayers a chance to see how their money is spent for education at the technical school, a spokesman said. A fashion show and skit presented by technical school students will be featured during the program.

On-the-job training is an important part of the distributive education department's curricula, the school spokesman explained, and many students are employed by local businesses.

The Weavers, Michael, 3, and Diana, 2, lost their best friend in an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon.

Very probably, they also picked up an intense dislike for "sweet and gentle old ladies" that may last them for the rest of their lives.

Michael and Diana nicknamed their friend Flash, and loved him more than if he had been

MONTE QUIT, HARTLEY IN; ADVANCE BUILDING PLANS

Twp. Seeks 10 Acres

A new municipal building for Bristol Township moved two steps closer toward reality last night.

The board of commissioners at its regular meeting hired an architect to design the $300,000 building and voted to condemn a 10.6 acre site on which to erect the building.

The site the commissioners want for the new township building is located between Bath Road and Bristol-Oxford Valley Road near the turnpike. It is owned by Joseph and Mary Ponczek.

The architect hired by the board is Louis I. Kahn, of Philadelphia, who has designed numerous buildings in this country and one in Angola, Africa.

Vocal Protest to talk with Kahn and find out a vocal protest from the Democratic minority on the board.

One of the Democrats, Leonard B. Sokolove, objected to the procedure used in selecting Kahn. Sokolove said he knew Kahn had a reputation as being one of the best architects in the country, but Sokolove said he wanted a chance to talk with Kahn and find out what ideas he had for the township building.

Another Democrat, William J. O'Neill, agreed with Sokolove. He added that he felt the full board of commissioners should have a chance to interview Kahn and one or two other architects.

Architect's Fees O'Neill said the architect's fees would probably run $25,000 and added "I can't vote to give a man this kind of job without even meeting him."

LeRoy Evans, chairman of the municipal building committee which recommended the hiring of Kahn, said 12 architects had been interviewed. The committee felt Kahn was the best man for the job, he said.

William J. Carlin, township solicitor, reported last night that the Ponczeks first asked $75,000. The township, Carlin said, offered (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

3 Women Slain

Lonely Canyon Is Combed For Clues To Sex Killing

OTTAWA, Ill. (UPI) — Police burned through a heavy layer of snow with flame throwers today in search of clues to the sex murders of three matrons whose bodies were found half-nude in a cave.

Authorities said more than one sex maniac probably was involved in the murders. But they said they had no suspects and few clues.

The women, all neighbors in a fashionable Chicago suburb, an wives of prominent executives, met death while on a hiking expedition at rugged Starved Rock State Park near here.

Their bodies were found

Wednesday in pools of frozen blood, their clothing torn and their skirts pulled over their heads.

"It was a sex crime, the most horrible I've seen in my 19 years as a policeman," said State Police Supt. William H. Morris.

Clues In Cave

Morris said the only clues police had were a three foot long log, a pair of broken binoculars and a dented camera. All were found in or near the cave and were covered with blood.

The log was regarded as the murder weapon. The camera and binoculars might have been damaged when the women made a desperate effort to defend themselves.

Morris said police would try to find other clues by using improvised flame throwers, fueled by bottled gas, to melt the snow on the canyon floor around the cave. "We don't know what we'll find but something has got to give," Morris said.

Put Up Struggle

Officials said the women apparently were waylaid while they hiked through the woods Monday. Despite a fierce struggle, they were dragged to the cave—either alive or dead.

An autopsy conducted during the night disclosed all the women had been raped and died of fractured skulls.

The victims were: Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, wife of R. W. Murphy, vice president and general counsel of Borg-Warner Corp., Chicago.

Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, wife of Robert Lindquist, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago.

Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, wife of George Oetting, general supervisor of internal audits in the accounting department of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Adams Named To Represent Fourth Ward

By GORDON PARKER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Vincent Hartley was elected president of the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners last night in a round of musical chairs touched off by the resignation of James D. Monte.

Monte, a Republican who had earlier announced he might quit as a member and president of the board to devote more time to his business, submitted a letter of resignation at last night's meeting. The letter was accepted with regrets.

Hartley, also a Republican who served as vice president under Monte, was then named president by his Republican colleagues. The Democrats abstained.

Evans New Veep

This left the vice president's chair open. The Republican commissioners elected LeRoy D. Evans to the post. Again the Democrats abstained.

The commissioners, with the four Democrats abstaining, appointed J. H. Adams, of 1712 Dixon Ave., Croydon, to Monte's spot on the board. Adams will represent the fourth ward, as Monte did. He will fill out the nearly two years left on Monte's term.

But before he took the post Adams resigned his position as part-time sign and vending machine inspector.

Allen Appointed

The commissioners appointed Charles Allen, of 3115 Bath Road, as to the inspector's job vacated by Adams. Two of the Democrats abstained and two, Leonard B. Sokolove and James T. Dunlavey, voted against this appointment.

The board voted to borrow $200,000 from the Philadelphia Fidelity Trust Company, at the interest rate of two-and-a-half per cent. Philadelphia National Bank offered to lend the money at the same rate, but the commissioners voted to borrow from Fidelity because last year they had borrowed from Philadelphia National.

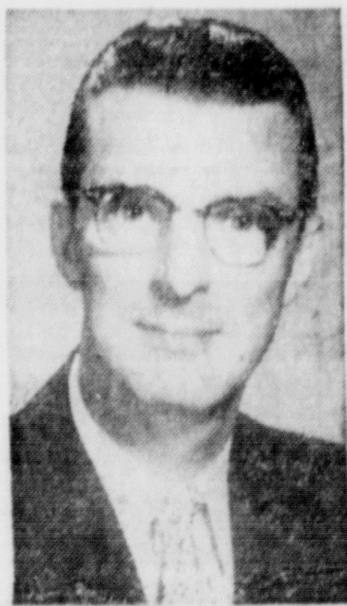

"Let's give them both some of our business," one commissioner commented.

Richard J. Bowen, township manager, reported that the Federal Government had offered to sell a former Bristol Terrace school building and its three-acre site to the township at the appraised market value.

Appraised at $21,800

The government appraised the property at $21,800. It would cost the township $10,900. Bowen recommended the township purchase the site because he said it would be valuable in any redevelopment plans for Bristol Terrace. The board took the offer under consideration.

The commissioners tabled a resolution submitted by Sokolove. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Levittowner Admits Bank Deposit 'Slip'

"I did it on an impulse," ... that's what a Levittown man told Tullytown police last night when he admitted the theft of a locked bank bag containing $750.

Bernard Weissman, 30, who lives with his wife and four children at 36 Wisteria Lane, Willowwood, Levittown, was supposed to deposit the bag and money Monday night in the Philadelphia National Bank's night deposit vault.

The money belonged to the Wyman Shoe Store, where Weissman has been employed four years. Last night, he called the FBI's Doylestown office, admitted the theft and asked their advice.

FBI agents called John Walterick, Tullytown Borough police chief, who suggested that the man voluntarily turn himself and the money over to police.

158th Year

Fallingston Library Marks Anniversary

Some 120 persons helped the Fallingston Free Library to celebrate its 158th anniversary at a dinner last night at the Fallingston Fire House.

The annual event was highlighted by the presentation of a set of Collier's Encyclopedia to the library in honor of the late Judge John W. Eckelberry. His daughter, Mrs. Borden, participated in the presentation.

Judge Eckelberry was once an active member of the library's board of directors. Myron C. Lubash, 11 Village Lane, Levittown, was installed as the new president of the Free Library at the dinner. He succeeds Joseph C. Winder, 10 Yardley Ave., Fallingston.

Gerald P. Roosen, Lahaska, and Miss Ann Brodeur, 30 Rose Arbor Lane, Levittown, were retained as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Roosen was master of ceremonies for the dinner. He introduced the speaker, David Taylor, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4) miles from Chicago to picturesque Starved Rock Monday morning, arriving in time for lunch. After eating, they put on hiking clothes and went for a long walk in the snow. They never were seen alive again.

Police theorized sex killers followed the women into a box canyon and trapped them there. The area is at the far end of the park, a mile from the lodge and had only one entrance.

The killers apparently used the club and iced to attack the women. The bodies were dragged through the snow to a sand cave set in a cliff five feet above the canyon floor. The bodies appeared to have been deliberately arranged in line at the mouth of the cave.

When the women did not call home as expected Tuesday night, the husbands raised the alarm and a search was organized.

2 Sentenced For Taking Horse Bets

Bucks County Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite this morning gave prison sentences to two men who admitted taking bets on horses. James Edward Christy, 51, of 905 Bayard Street, Bath Addition, Bristol Township, whose home was raided by State Police with County and township authorities Feb. 1 was sentenced to three months to a year in Bucks County prison.

Also Fined Eugene Schiavani, 25, 324 Lincoln Ave., Bristol, was sentenced to 30 days to a year in prison. In addition, each was fined $500. State Police Cpl. Andrew J. Kutney said he conducted a raid on Christy's house. Trooper Michael Holteran, County Detective Thawley Hayman and Township Patrolmen John Rice and Charles Shaw also were on the raid. Kutney said that a record of 200 bets totaling $350 was found by the telephone in the house. He said Christy had in his pocket $226, $17 and $74.

200 Plays Christy said he handled about 200 plays each day and took a 15 per cent commission. He said the profit would average about $150 a week.

Schiavani said he picked up and recorded bets for Christy.

Kutney said Christy had a previous record of arrests and imprisonment in New Jersey.

Schiavani had no previous criminal record.

Before pronouncing sentence Judge Satterthwaite said "It has been the policy of the court that all professional gamblers spend time in jail."

Shoplifter Fined $50

A Levittown woman was judged guilty of shoplifting at a hearing this morning before Tullytown Justice of the Peace James V. Parto.

Mrs. Ann McGovern, 26, of 20 Primrose Lane, Pinewood, Levittown, was fined $50 and $9 court costs. She also paid $21.50 for merchandise she took from Pomeroy's and J. C. Penney's Department Stores in the Levittown Shopping center yesterday.

The mother of four children gave greed as her reason for taking a pair of slacks, a blouse and three books from Pomeroy's and a blouse, and two skirts from Penney's.

A Pomeroy's store detective caught Mrs. McGovern taking the books and called the Tullytown Borough police.

She was arrested by Police Chief John Walterick and Officer Pat Coia.

theft was "just an impulse." According to police, Weissman explained that he looked around when he went to make the Monday night deposit, did not see anyone and took the locked deposit bag, containing the money to his car.

Later that night, he removed the money from the bag, wrapped it in tin foil and put it under his night table in his bedroom of his home.

Weissman was released on $1,000 bail after a preliminary hearing at 2 a.m. this morning before James V. Parto, Tullytown Borough justice of the peace, he will receive a further hearing 3 p.m. this afternoon on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods, the borough police chief stated.

Call In FBI

Bank employees said they didn't find the bag Tuesday morning. Deposits at the Philadelphia National Bank are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, a government agency, and therefore fall under FBI jurisdiction.

Albert Gratz, Wyman Shoe Store manager, said Weissman had been working at the store four years. "He was very loyal," the manager reported.

A Philadelphia spokesman for the shoe store chain said the company was "very shocked and disturbed."

Also Willard K. Wells, Levittown; Harry A. Deuel, Fairless Hills; Edward R. Howley, Fairless Hills; Robert H. Arrowood, Morrisville; Francis E. Dyer, Levittown; Mrs. Stanley Mohn, Fairless Hills; Jane M. Snipes, Morrisville and Michael Berrie, Levittown.

The Fallsington Free Library was started informally 158 years ago, but was not formally incorporated as a company until 1802. Many of the most prominent family names in the history of early Bucks County have been associated with the library. They include Trimble, Drinker, Yardley, Mott, Good, Milner, Alexander, Lippincott, Palmer, Satterthwaite, Burton, Comfort, Hance, DeNormandie, Wildman and Price.

The present day Wright Hardware Store and Post Office, Meeting House Square, was the library's original home. Later the library was moved to a sunny room in the old hip-roofed house that is now the Snipes Apartment.

The library has a stock of more than 16,000 books including a comprehensive selection of books by and about Quakers. Many valuable first editions and agricultural journals of the late 18th and early 19th centuries are in the library.

Early Success Seen For Scout Campaign

Herbert Barnes, general chairman of the $360,000 Development Fund Campaign of Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, today predicted "complete and early success" for the campaign as its Special Gifts phase was launched this week.

Barnes last night addressed a large group of Special Gifts volunteers, captains and majors of Lehigh Valley Scout District in the Bucks County Courthouse and said he is well impressed by the large and enthusiastic turnout each organization meeting has brought.

Barometer Of Success

"This response is the main barometer of predicting the success of our campaign," the chairman said, "and everyone on your campaign steering committee agrees it is marvelous."

Nadler Flunks Census Test

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Teddy Nadler, who won 264,000 on television quiz shows, today lost a chance for a $13-a-day job as a census-taker when he flunked the qualification test.

Jack W. Traverse Jr., regional field director for the Census Bureau, said Nadler "did well on the first 30 questions but did not make the grade on the final 16."

The first part of the test consisted of multiple-choice questions on the definitions of words. The second part was a map comprehension section. The applicants were asked to do such things as indicating which of several buildings was closest to a certain highway.

Traverse said Nadler apparently "got mixed up on east and west." (Earlier Story Page 16)

Public Hearing Tonight On Middletown Budget

A public hearing for a proposed $461,379.60 budget will be held 8 o'clock tonight by the Middletown Township Supervisors at the township municipal building. The budget is approximately $6,000 under the 1959 expenditures but calls for real estate tax income amounting to $328,496.53 or $43,965 more than last year.

Scheduled to appear with Bucks County GOP chairman Fred Ziegler are Assemblyman Alan D. Williams, Assemblywoman Mrs. Margarette Kooker, assemblyman candidate John H. Thomas, national delegate candidate L. John Hulton, state committeewoman candidate Mrs. Adrienne Franklin, state committeewoman candidate E. W. Lindeberg, and alternate national delegate candidate Mrs. Edward Beagle.

The resolution urged the county commissioners to establish a county park authority which would have the power to purchase necessary lands for the proposed Mill Creek Valley park system. It was tabled on a six-to-four party-line vote with the six Republicans knocking down the Democratic-sponsored move.

Republican Samuel U. Delp said he agreed with the resolution but thought that it was rather lengthy and wordy. He said it should be submitted to the board's solicitor who could "boil" it down.

Another commissioner said that all resolutions should be drawn up by the solicitor.

President Hartley said Sokolov's proposal would be given serious consideration and discussed in executive session.

Plans Include 3 Separate Swim Pools

A $150,000 proposed swimming pool and park development for the green belt area between the Quincey Hollow and Cobalt Ridge sections received the endorsement of the Middletown Township Supervisors and Park Board last night.

Robert Whitman, program director of the Levittown Public Recreation Association, presented tentative plans for the development of the park and recreation area to the two groups of Middletown Township officials.

Three Pools

The plans include a pool area with a 45 by 75 foot swimming pool, a separate 45 by 25 foot diving pool and a separate 50 by 25 foot children's wading pool.

In an area adjacent to the pool, a playground would be set up with playground devices in addition to a shelter that could be used as a warm-up area for ice skaters in the winter and arts and crafts in the summer.

An ambitious item in the proposals of the LPRA is a plan to develop a new man-made lake, the Quincey-Co lake. The lake would be formed by the diverting of waters from the Queen Ann Creek.

Detailed Studies

No action was taken by either the supervisors or the park board at the Middletown meeting last night. Members of both groups reported they favored the proposals and agreed to make detailed studies of the plans.

The LPRA is asking the Middletown supervisors to deed or lease the needed ground for the park development. Whitman said the plans would be coordinated with the Bucks County Park Board and the Middletown Township Park and Recreation Board.

The proposed park area is situated south of Edgely Road and bounded by Quincey Drive, Cobalt Cross Road and Cobalt Ridge Drive.

Whitman said the LPRA is also hoping to acquire land for park and swimming areas in the green belt section near Red Cedar Hill.

Subscription Drive

The LPRA program director said the LPRA plans to finance most of the development costs out of its subscription drive. The 1960 membership subscription drive gets under way today, he said.

Whitman said that Middletown Township officials will make a study of the legality of deeding or leasing the park areas to the LPRA. He said engineering studies will have to be made to study the flood plane and flood rate of the water. He said permission of the State Department of Forests and Waters would be required.

PAA Begins Baseball League Registrations

Registrations of boys who want to play in Little League, Minor League or the Babe Ruth League during the upcoming baseball season was recently begun by the Pennsbury Athletic Association, sponsors of the leagues. Registering his two sons, Pat and Michael, for diamond play is Larry Sullivan

Makefield Officials Considering Parks

Parks and recreation areas in Lower Makefield, under consideration since blueprints for them were included in the township's master plan made in 1954, came under examination at a meeting of the Lower Makefield Planning Commission.

The commission expects to have its own recommendations on the location and size of the township's park ready within two months. The report will be handed to the township supervisors for final action.

This latest plan has been under consideration by the commission for the past year and a half.

Members are currently awaiting a reply to questions concerning land problems and other aspects from Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of Forest and Waters.

The 1954 master plan provides for two small park areas, one stretching along the Delaware River for the length of the township, was to be but 100 feet wide at its widest point.

The other section was to be along the Delaware Canal, between Rural Road and Ferry Road. The second park was to be about 200 feet wide.

The plan was drawn up by Russell Van Nest, New Hope.

Additional Cub Scouts Cited At Dinner Listed

Among the 54 Cub Scouts of Packs 95 and 10 who were honored at the recent Blue and Gold dinner in the Charles Boehm school, Lower Makefield, were:

John Wagner, who was transferred to the Webelos Den and received the Scout Handbook; he and Richard Labate and Lewis Yetter received the Cub Scout Graduation Certificate. Stars were awarded to William Speakman, Wayne Deswert, Richard Crocker, Lewis Yetter and Thomas Rowe.

Honor Den for Pack 95 was Den 5, Mrs. James Murray, Den Mother. Best Handicraft Award went to Den 8, Mrs. Callaghan Den Mother.

Borough PTA To See Show On Defense

Morrisville PTA will see a program on Civil Defense at its Fathers Night meeting to be held in the Morrisville High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The CD program is being arranged by Lawrence Lane. The exhibition and talks by borough Civil Defense officials will explain the organization and functions of the Morrisville CD and its achievements.

Charles Burgess, president of the PTA, will appoint a nominating committee during the business portion of the evening. Elections of new officers will be held at the April meeting. Installation of officers will be in May.

Explanatory remarks and general arrangements for the CD portion of the program will be made by Edwin L. Price, CD director. Assistant director Mrs. Ruth Clark will talk on the local warning system.

Mrs. Mary Mitman, deputy director, will be in charge of the radiological segment of the program. Assistant director Frank Czajowski and executive director Hugh Hoffman will be in charge of the display of radiological instruments.

2 Students Visit Capital As Guests Of Phila. Unit

Two Pennsbury High School students recently spent a day in Washington, D.C., as guests of the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia.

The students were Charles Fioretti, a senior, and Ronald Weidmann, a junior. Both of them are members of the Contemporary World Affairs Club at their school.

The day was arranged and chaperoned by the council. Nineteen schools from Philadelphia and the surrounding area, represented by 45 students, made the trip.

A visit was made to the Capitol building where the group met in the Senate Conference Room and were addressed by the Chief of Staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This was followed by a conducted bus trip of the city of Washington, D.C. Luncheon was eaten in the Department of State cafeteria.

A meeting with the Secretary of Public Affairs for Africa was held.

At the Union of South Africa Embassy Building the students were taken on a conducted tour and given a talk on the culture, paintings and progress of South Africa.

Miss A. Marie Kelly is the sponsor for the Contemporary World Affairs Club in Pennsbury.

len, John Skelton, Ricky Reading, Richard Fein and Ken Mortenson.

Tape Recorder Proves Valuable Aid To Boehm School Students

A tape recorder, prepared lessons on tape and several sets of earphones play an important role in the advancement of bright mathematics students at Charles H. Boehm Junior High School, Lower Makefield.

Richard Barnhart, mathematics instructor at the school, developed the idea of presenting advanced lessons in this manner to students who have shown ability to move ahead of the class at a faster rate.

In order to meet the challenge of these bright students, Barnhart prepares the advanced lessons on the tape, together with homework assignments and tests.

No Distraction The students use the equipment during regular class periods and because of the nature of the equipment they are not distracted by the work of the rest of the class.

The questions which may arise as a result of the assignment are answered by the teacher at the end of the recording when careful preparation by Barnhart has been made for work for the rest of the class. Time is also provided on the tape for the students to start their homework assignment at which time they are able to listen to soft classical music.

Barnhart has found this to be a very effective means for providing for the individual needs of his students. Their tests scores have improved and their eagerness and high morale have proved its worth.

Barnhart has taught mathematics at Pennsbury High School for three years. Prior to that he taught at Valley Forge Military Academy. He is presently earning credits for his Master's Degree at Rutgers University.
